Judaism speaks to different dimensions of our being, in body language, mind language, heart language, and soul language. Let's spend a Shabbat together experiencing the Jewish day of rest as fully as we can, savoring meals and conversation, prayer and song, the ocean of Torah, and the beautiful beaches of New England.

Joel Segel

Bio: Joel Segel worked closely with Reb Zalman on two books: Jewish with Feeling: A Guide to Meaningful Jewish Practice, was listed among Publishers Weekly's Best Spiritual Books of the year. Davening: A Guide to Meaningful Jewish Prayer won a National Jewish Book Award.

Joel has been a regular teacher and performer at the ALEPH Kallah. He plays and sings his own compositions in various settings, including Beth El Sudbury, Temple Sinai Brookline and "Shabbat by the Creek," a monthly word-of-mouth minyan that he leads in Newton, Massachusetts.
